OUT ON THE LIMB
with George Vierhus

COME NEXT JUNE Campbell's official city "family" will get two new doctors.

But don't call on 'em to diagnose any of your physical ills. They are not "M.D.'s" but "J.D.'s".

The University of Santa Clara has announced it will replace the LL.B (Bachelor of Laws) degree for its law school graduates with the J.D. (Juris Doctor) degree.

The university will confer the professional doctorate for the first time upon its June, 1967 law graduates, according to Dean Leo A. Huard. In addition, the dean has announced the J.D. degree will be conferred retroactively on all alumni of the law school who received the LL.B.

THUS COUNCILMAN BILL SMEED, holder of the LL.B degree from Santa Clara will actually become DR. Bill Smeed, a "J.D.", as will City Attorney Joe Bonacina, another Santa Clara law grad.

But, we agree with the law school dean, who adds that it is "highly unlikely" that law graduates will adopt the use of the title "doctor".

But, after June, you will be technically correct, if you refer to the two barristers involved in our city government as "Dr." Smeed and "Dr." Bonacina. But we doubt if they would much care for the idea.

So there will be two doctors on the City Council in June. Councilman Ed Rogers who is a "PH.D" on the San Jose State faculty, has been a councilman since 1960.

TWO FORMER MAYORS of Campbell, John M. Chargin and Dick Morton, both practicing attorneys in San Jose but no longer residents of Campbell, will also have the "J.D." degree conferred upon them.

And the governing board of West Valley College gains a "Dr." in Ed Panelli, another SCU law graduate. That makes two for that board, too. Dr. Edwin C. Browne, a retired educator, has been a member of the governing board of the college since it was established.

Santa Clara University officials report that the main reason for the mass switching had to do with the status of the degree holder.

The new degree places the law school graduates on an equal basis with graduates of medical and dental schools who received professional doctorates, the university points out.

And it will also help remove some of the confusion in the present system whereby a law student received a bachelor's degree before entering law school and another bachelor's degree, after three years of study.

This change in degree is part of a nationwide movement. Now 70 of the 136 approved law

Storm 'recess' halts flood damage

The flood that didn't happen is the story of the past week-end. Apprehensive public works personel worked and watched through Saturday and Monday nights waiting for the flood that was twice within inches of occurring when on both nights the torrential downpour ceased and the waters receded before disaster occured.

Ken Hickman, Campbell superintendent of public works, and a crew of 10 men stood by at crucial points both nights prepared for the emergency that didn't happen. Three spots on the rain-swollen San Tomas Creek threatened both nights to spill over and flood at Virginia and Budd; Hazel and San Tomas and at Hacienda and Abbott.

Sandbagging at Virginia and Budd was nec-

Theater gets "ultimatum" from council

New screen mars drive-in 'picture'

Unless the Syufy Enterprises, owners of the nearly-completed drive-in theater off Union Ave. now located in the county territory, agree that there will be but one huge screen on the site, further discussion of the possible annexation of the area to Campbell will be fruitless. That was what Campbell city councilmen indicated Monday night.

Annexation to Campbell had been the suggestion of theater owners as a means to settle the stalemate that now exists because of the court ruling specifying that the accesses are part of the overall theater operation. The accesses are all under Campbell jurisdiction.

An angry group of councilmen directed City Attorney Joe Bonacina to notify all parties involved in the theater operation that no settlement in the long-standing dispute was possible unless the theater people met the conditions levied by the city, including that there could only be one screen on the location.

What angered the councilmen was the latest move by the theater owners who apparently obtained approval of a huge second screen directly from the supervisors while ostensibly nogotiating with the city for annexation and being aware of the city's conditions.

The councilmen had been informed that, although the original county permit had been issued for only one screen, the supervisors had approved the second screen in a questionable "emergency" action.

The councilmen were not the only angry parties concerned with this latest move of the movie people.

Fred Sahadi, owner of plush apartments on Union Ave. and other property adjacent to the theater location, through his attorney, Bruce Oneto, appealed to the council to take drastic legal action to block this latest move of the drive-in owners.

Oneto suggested three courses of action: (1) amend the present law suit of the city to enjoin the drive-in from doing anything further on the site; (2) Initiate another law suit or (3) join with his clients in a joint legal action.

But City Attorney Bonacina firmly opposed any such actions on the part of the city. He was especially emphatic against the city becoming involved with a private party in any litigation.

He also recommended that all avenues for possible settlement of the litigation should be explored.

Councilman Homer Hyde was the most bitter of the councilmen in expressing his frustration and distaste of the situation.

Reluctantly bowing to Bonacina's ruling, Hyde then moved that the letter be sent to the theater people. The motion passed without a dissenting vote.

Panelists start "training"

Members of the seven panels that will lead the discussion groups at Campbell's first "Congress for Community Progress" on Monday, Feb. 13, at West Valley College were "in training" today.

The sessions began at the Chamber of Commerce office, under the direction of Tom Ludcke, PG&E community development consultant. Each panel consists of five members.

The panels and their moderators include:

At annual dinner-dance

C.of C. to install officers Friday

It's a sell-out for the annual Chamber of Commerce installation dinner-dance this Friday at Villa Felice, Jim Duffield, C. of C. manager, reported this week.

Only 210 persons can be accomodated for the gala affair and Duffield said that reservations received indicate a capacity crowd will attend.

One of the highlights of the evening will be the revealing of the selection of the "man-of-the-year" award, one of the best kept-secrets of the C. of C.

Harry Lind, vice-president, will make the announcement of the winner of this coveted honor.

The C. of C. "Ambassador" award will also be made at the dinner. This goes to the member who has obtained the most members during the past year.

George Vierhus, publisher of The Campbell Press, incoming president, will receive the gavel of office from Dick Hardy, of the Ainsley Corporation, outgoing prexy. Other officers to be installed include Harry Lind, of the First Valley Bank, vice-president and Bob Bullard, C.P.A., treasurer.

Judge Richard W. (Dusty) Rhodes, of the Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga municipal court, will be the installing officer, a tradition that was started last year. The judge will "swear in" both old and new directors. There are seven new board members and eight hold-over ones.

John Faber, of the Campbell Memorial Chapel, an outgoing director, will be the master-of-ceremonies for the evening.

Both city and county officials, including Mayor Ralph Doetsch, Supervisor Ralph Mehrkens, and City

A responsibility

Recently a nationwide weekly news magazine (Newsweek) did a cover story about the tremendous publishing empire built by the Los Angeles Times. During 1966, the magazine reported, the Los Angeles Times rang up an estimated $225 million.

Of this, the newspaper accounted for less than half the take. Finances were diversified into 13 new companies with products including paperback books, napkins, charts, medical books, telephone directories and Bibles.

This community newspaper publisher gets completely lost when reference is made to millions or even thousands of dollars.

That is way over our depth.

Yet this report on the huge L.A. Times empire, even if we can't fathom the $$ signs, gives us pause for reflection.

The L.A. Times-operation is admittedly somewhat unique. The huge daily covers the southland like a blanket with a tremendous output of national and international news.

In addition, in a number of areas, the L.A. Times has purchased the community newspaper that serve those areas.

Other "big" newspaper operations have followed the lead of the L.A. Times throughout the southland.

It is all breathtaking, in a nostalgic sort of way.

True we don't have in this area an exact counterpart of the huge L.A. Times empire. But to a lesser degree the same situation exists.

It is becoming increasingly difficult for a community like Campbell to keep its identity and resist the metropolitan sweep towards the big impersonal city. Merchants find themselves competing with larger and larger corporations loaded with means to attract customers.

And, likewise the community newspaper, like the local store, is on a sort of collision course with mammoth communications corporations, incidentally, whose computers are too busy to chat with the school superintendent, the city manager, the fire chief or a disgruntled taxpayer.

Because of this trend toward the impersonal approach, we of the community newspaper fraternity submit that there is a definite need for our existence to maintain the personal touch in civic affairs.

This newspaper believes firmly that there is a place in the sun for the little guy, whether it is a newspaper, a person or a city.

It is difficult to believe that a newspaper that covers the metropolitan San Jose area, plus four other counties, can have a sensitive feeling for the needs and desires of the people in Campbell.

But, please, don't get us wrong.

This gigantic (in comparison to us, that is) newspaper, in our opinion, is doing an excellent job in its coverage of the so-called "big picture" in the areas that we mentioned.

But we believe emphatically that there is a need for objective reporting of local news. We firmly maintain that this community needs a local medium as a guideline or for local leadership. And that is our function - and that alone.

Individual voices are still essential.

The strength of a community newspaper lies in its being responsive to the needs of the home owners who live in the community and to the business people who cater to those same homeowners.

We have no delusions of grandeur.

It is the hope and desire of this newspaper that it can always fulfill the communication needs of this community by being the medium in which the grass roots opinion of the citizens can be expressed.

But the road is not easy.

Let's face it. This is the day of bigness.

We are not big and never intend to be.

The well-publicized, overpowering "bigness" of the L.A. Times in the southland has made us all take a second look.

It will be a sad day, if this trend to "bigness" causes the demise of small grass roots independent newspapers in the southland.

Those papers in the southland perform a needed function in this society of ours.

They are doing the same job that we are attempting to do in this community.

The community newspaper, on the other hand, must constantly strive to improve its product.

It is not enough to proclaim that a community newspaper is needed and let it go at that.

The community newspaper has to work at its job.

The Campbell Press recognizes its responsibility to the community and is making a determined effort to live up to that responsibility by being the "voice" of the community.

But it is not a one-way street.

In order for the "voice" to be heard loud and clear, it needs the support of the community.

With such a "partnership" our common goal of making this community a better place to live and work can be achieved.

schools in the country use the J.D. while there were only 16 schools doing it in 1961.

CAMPBELL'S FIRE DEPARTMENT in 1966 again won first place honors in the state in the fire prevention contest conducted by the National Fire Protection Association.

Last year, you recall, Campbell placed first in the nation as well as the state, for this coveted honor. Since 1960 Campbell has placed high among the leaders state and nationwide.

But you wouldn't know it, if you read the "news release" we received last week from Santa Fe Springs with the apparent blessing of the governor's and the state fire marshal's office.

SANTA FE SPRINGS, a city of 15,000 in Los Angeles County, placed second in the state in its population class (5000 to 20,000).

But the news release, which apparently was sent to newspapers throughout the state implied that Santa Fe Springs was tops in the state, "the city," the release emphasized, "that has received national recognition for its fire prevention program during each of the last four years"...

What made the blood pressure rise for Fire Chief George Maxwell and Fire Marshal Borden was that there was nary a word about Campbell in this apparently 'official' news release. Yet Campbell consistently has placed ahead of Santa Fe Springs in the ratings.

WE DON'T hold any grudge against Santa Fe Springs in blowing its own siren. Neither do George and Gene.

But we think it is a little cheeky to have put that official state blessing on the spread.

What really griped us was the picture that accompanied the release showing the Santa Fe Springs fire chief (who apparently made the long trip from L.A. to S.F. in full uniform) posing with a songstress at the "hungry i" in San Francisco "officially" kicking off California's Fire prevention program.

A full-page description was attached to the Santa Fe Springs release describing the career of the songstress and the albums of her records that were available.

We think Santa Fe Springs was stretching its fire hoses pretty far on this one.

ANSWERING a ringing phone and getting nothing but the dial tone on the other end is a frustrating and provoking experience.

After this had happened twice to us on a recent weekend within a minutes, we called the operator to see if there was any procedure we should follow to report our exasperation.

The operator while sympathetic with our problem suggested that we call the business office on the following Monday. Other than that there must not be much that could be done about it.

But we didn't follow the operator's suggestion.

Shortly after we had finished our chit-chat with the phone gal, the phone rang again. This time our brother-in-law Kenneth Grimes in Fresno was on the line.

HE SAID HE had dialed our number two times previously and had received nothing but a dial tone.

So we told him to join the club.

One of these days we are going to ask our fellow C. of C. director, Lee Sicard of the phone company, to explain the intricacies of the modern telephones.

Come to think of it, we won't bother Lee.

We wouldn't understand anyway.

essary to prevent the high waters from running into the house at the northwest corner of Virginia. The creek did go over the banks slightly at this point before receding.

Flooding also occured in the street at Hazel and San Tomas but no damage occured and the street was at all times passable. Slight flooding also occured at the corner of Hacienda and Abbott.

At 9 a.m. Tuesday morning public works department men were busy cleaning out the mouth of the drain of the bridge at the corner of Budd and Virginia and the Santa Clara County public works department had been advised that the bank of the little Campbell park on Virginia was being cut away.

Slight flood damage occured to the Assembly of God Church, 1870 Winchester Blvd., when the rain-soaked West Valley College football field drained to the north and west of the church, building up a stream that soaked into the church sanctuary and saturated the rug. The 3" storm drain in the vicinity was unable to take care of the downpour.

West Valley College officials also had to pump out their parking lot next to the Bank of America on N. Third Ave., but no damage occured to the "relocatable" buildings situated on the parking lots.

According to figures furnished by the Campbell Water Company, Campbell received a total of 5.16 inches of rain from Jan. 21 to 8 a.m., Jan. 24, bringing the total rainfall to 13.24 inches.

On Jan. 21, 2.90 inches fell with 1 inch on Jan. 22, .01 on Jan. 23 and 1.25 inches Jan. 24. Last year the recorded precipitation measured 9.04 with normal at 7.00 inches. The total for the 1965-66 season was 12.03 inches.

Barbara Tragardh is lovely winter bride

BARBARA TRAGARDH

The beautiful sanctuary of Immanuel Lutheran Church in San Jose was the setting for the exchange of wedding vows between Barbara Ann Tragardh and Fred Lewis Malaspina. Rev. G. Allen Road officiated at the double-ring afternoon rites.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore an empire-style, ivory satin gown with appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace, a creation of her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Pieter Samsom of Campbell. A floral and seed pearl headpiece secured her elbow-length illusion veil. The bridal bouquet was a short cascade, white rose nosegay.

The bridal attendents wore identical empire-style, street length gowns of hot pink velveteen and had matching ribbon coronets. They carried pale pink rose and white carnation nosegays. Maid of honor was Miss Mary Magnuson of Los Gatos, cousin of the bride, while Miss Lynn Blaschek of Santa Clara fulfilled the role of bridesmaid.

Mr. William Malaspina served his brother as best man. Ushers were Thomas Conkling, brother-in-law of the groom, and Thomas Tragardh, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Tragardh, and the adjoining home of her grandmother, Mrs. Pieter Samsom, on Catalpa Lane in Campbell.

The bride attended Campbell High School, and was a 1964 graduate of San Jose State College. She holds a kindergarten teaching position in the Santa Clara Unified School District.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Malaspina of San Bruno, was graduated from Capuchino High School in that city, and attended the College of San Mateo. He is employed by the D. N. Mallory Co., Distributors, in South San Francisco.

The newlyweds have established their home in Redwood City after honeymooning in Carmel.

Campbell family hosts Brazilian student

by Grace Hebard

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Weslow of 98 N. Carlyn Ave. in Campbell have opened their home and hearts to "The girl From Ipanema." That's what they call Monica Maria Pantoja Leite (That's her full name) of Ipanema, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, who is making her home here for the next eight months.

The 18-year-old Miss is a foreign exchange student sponsored by the State Department "Youth For Understanding" program under the direction of the University of Michigan. While visiting here, she will attend classes at Notre Dame High School in San Jose, with their daughter, Beth Weslow, a senior.

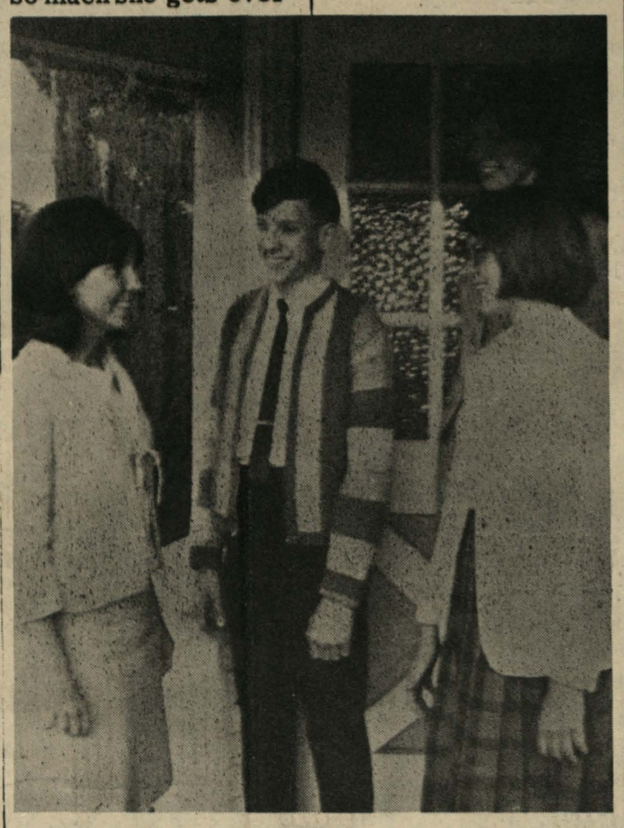
Monica has already graduated from St. Ursula's College Preparatory in Rio de Janeiro, and her visit to the United States is a "scholarship" as she calls it. On her return home in August, she will attend the University of Rio de Janeiro where she plans to major in psychology.

The dark-haired miss, is a typical teenager, and spends much of her time on the Ipanema beach when at home. She knows all the rock-and-roll tunes and the American movie stars. This past week-end, the Weslows took her to Carmel, where she attended the Pebble Beach Pro-Am Golf Tournament, and saw several movie stars.

Her father is a ship broker in Rio, and often travels to New York. Her mother is a housewife, and she has a 20-year-old sister, Veronica, who is a legal secretary.

She speaks Portuguese, which is the national language of Brazil, as well as English, French, Spanish and Italian. There will be lots of excitement at the Weslow home while she is here. In addition to Beth, there are two others at home including, Mary Jo Weslow, a sixth grader at St. Lucy's School and Jim, a sophomore at Bellarmine. Weslow is employed by Regal Pale Brewing Company.

According to Mrs. Weslow, their main problem with Monica is to slow her down. She wants to do and see so much she gets overtired. Another difficulty is the weather. She finds California weather extremely cold, and who can blame her after this last torrential storm. In Brazil it is warm all year round, as her healthy tan proclaims. Before long, however, she will no doubt be joining the countless other teenagers on their summer trek to Santa Cruz.



WELCOME--Monica Leite (left) pretty foreign exchange student from Brazil, is greeted at the front door of the Norbert Weslow home on Carlyn Ave. by Jim, Beth and Mary Jo Weslow, who will be her hosts for the next eight months.

Camden plans Twirp Week; Westmont slates Variety Show

Camden Chatter

by JAN LOWDEN

PLANS ARE UNDERWAY:

Plans are currently underway for Camden's annual Twirp Dance. It will be an after-game dance Feb. 10. This is a turn-about dance, where it is up to the girl to ask her favorite boy.

Plans are also underway for Twirp Week to be held the whole week before the dance. Some ideas for Twirp Week are: Slave Day, where the girls have to obey the boys and carry their books, Color Day, where all students wear their class colors, and Silence Day, where the girls cannot say anything.

OUT WITH THE OLD, IN WITH THE NEW:

This is the time of the year that people are turning over new leaves and making resolutions. This is also the time that we at Camden change editors for Cougars' Tales, our school newspaper. Carmen Winters will assume the position of Managing Editor succeeding Jan Lowden.

Ida West will take care of Page 1, Joe Pecota on Page 2, Margaret Rudd page 3 and Curtis Daniels will take over the Sports page.

SENIORS ARE HONORED:

Two Camden seniors have been honored as Seniors of the Month for January. They are Cathy Hively, and Larry North. They were chosen by the Student Council. Both are active in school affairs, Larry being both a Council member and varsity basketball player, and Cathy being in charge of plans for the Senior Ball.

ELECTION RESULTS:

Jan. 20, Camden students went to the polls and voted for new Council members and class officers. The new president of the Student Body is Terry Peluso and vice-president is John Sequiera. The four new Council members are: Kirk Cunningham, Roger Heath, Larry Peluso, and Dave Shaeffer. These people and the president and vice-president of each of the four classes make up the Student Council. Congratulations are in order for all of the winners.

Warrior World

by RUSS LONG

Election returns are in for the elections held last Friday.

Defeating Hal Herkenhoff for Student Body President was Scott Porter. Hal assumes the office of vice-president.

Triumphing in their race for the three Student Council seats are Marianne Gregory, Winnie Yabe, and Dick Stephenson.

Elections for class officers will be held on Feb. 3. Duties for the spring officers will include planning the skating party for the Freshmen, the afternoon party held for Sophomores, juniors will choose a theme for their Junior Prom, and seniors for the Senior Ball and Sneak Day.

Pep Club has been selling lovable little troll dolls during the past week, and as the sale continues, the trolls are going fast.

This Saturday night the PTA Variety Show gets under way at 8 p.m. in the cafetorium. A number of acts are planned, ranging from vaudeville to rock 'n roll.

The annual Westmont Invitational Wrestling Tournament was held last Saturday. As best could be gathered at a late hour was that Brian and Jerry Adamson, and Carlos Avilla placed in the meet, the Adamsons with third places and Carlos with a second. A fifth place standing went to the entire Westmont squad.

In basketball, the Warriors handed Campbell their 15th straight defeat last Tuesday, and downed Saratoga last Friday night. Roy Grillo took scoring honors in both games, bringing him to second place in league scoring behind Bill Drozdiak of Del Mar.

This week the cage quint meet Leigh at home Tuesday and Camden there on Friday night.

Westmont variety show is Saturday

The public is invited to come and have a Mod time at Westmont High School on Jan. 28, at 8 p.m. when the variety show of the year "IT'S A MOD, MOD, MOD, ECT., WORLD" will be presented by the High-Jinks.

Those attending will be treated to music and entertainment for all ages. The students, faculty and parents for this night will turn into singers, dancers and combo groups. Master of Ceremony for the show will be Mike Slavit of the English Department. The feature attraction will be Principal Warren Conrad and Freshman Counselor Robert Brown as they again present their famous act "Conrad and Brown". Additional music will be provided by members of the Cupertino Banjo Band and a solo by Mike Jones on a $4000 electric organ.

The program is under the direction of Mrs. Gloria Hauck.

Tickets will be available at the door, but are also available from students and P.T.A., at Westmont High or call Mrs. Martinez, 378-7165. Admission is $1.

Deadline nears for vehicle licence fees

The deadline for 1967 registration of vehicles is less than two weeks away.

Reminders are issued by Department of Motor Vehicles officials throughout the state to motorists who have not yet paid their statutory fees for the year.

Any type of registration may be handled in the 146 DMV field offices; and at over 100 offices of auto clubs and associations for members. Persons requiring simple renewals only may submit fees with their prepared statement cards at any of 150 temporary registration stations in selected banks in metropolitan areas of the state.

DMV officers emphasize the advantage of application in person, using the recently issued punched-card statements mailed from Sacramento. Such applications result in immediate delivery across the counter of a current year's registration card and the blue sticker that validates the rear license plate for 1967. The sticker is designed to be attached to the upper left corner of the rear plate.

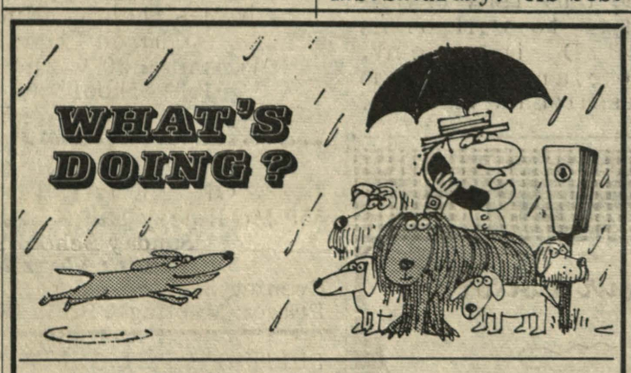
DMV offices are open from 8 to 5, Monday through Friday, and on Saturdays, Jan. 28 and Feb. 4, from 8 to noon.

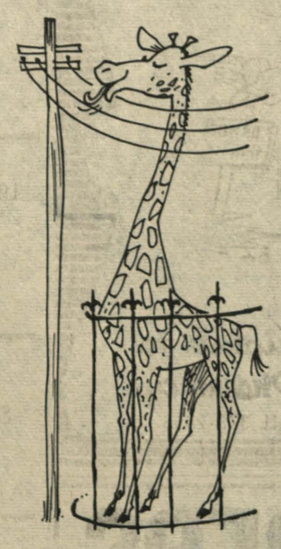
Penalties set forth in the Vehicle Code increase the amounts due the state after midnight Monday, Feb. 6.

Applications may be mailed to the DMV at Sacramento, addressed as shown on the back of the statement cards. Mailed applications will be free of penalty if they are postmarked earlier than midnight, Feb. 6.

GARDENS

In 1891, the first botanical garden in California was founded by Prof. E.L. Greene on the campus of the University of California at Berkeley.





It seems there was a rash of "wrong numbers" plaguing the good people of Chester, England. Phones rang, but when answered, there was only silence. After months of investigating, the telephone men traced the trouble to the city zoo! There they found George the Giraffe happily licking the wires stretched across his enclosure—and short-circuiting all the phones in the district. The phone men raised the telephone pole four feet and got George permanently off the line. You'd think any well-brought-up giraffe would stick his neck out and apologize, but not George! Thank goodness most people are better mannered. When they get a wrong number, most of 'em graciously explain the error to the person on the other end!

If you ever have any questions about making a Long Distance Call, whether you're going to dial direct or place the call through the Operator, you'll find helpful instructions in the front pages of your Campbell telephone book.

If a pay phone ever happens to keep your dime by mistake, I wish you'd let us know. We'd like to send it back. You may feel like hitting the phone, but all you have to do is dial "0" for Operator from another phone and tell her you've lost your money. She'll see that you get a refund in the mail. And if you'll give the operator the number of the phone that kept your dime, we can repair it quickly so it won't happen again.

Your new Campbell directories will be comming to you about February 1st. When it arrives it's a good idea to familiarize yourself with the list of emergency numbers in the front pages of your phone book. If there's ever a crisis, you can save moments that matter by dialing these numbers yourself. However, if you can't dial the emergency number yourself, just dial "0" for Operator. And please remember to give your location and phone number—that's important.

City Council goes on split-vote "binge" at Monday's meeting

Usually the City Council shows unanimity in balloting. But that was not the case last Monday.

Some sort of record was set when three times during the evening a 3-2 vote decided an issue. And the same vote apparently would have decided still a fourth action, if it had reached that stage.

The first division occurred in a request for a zone change for property at 2140 S. Winchester on the northeast corner of Alice and Winchester. K.E. Norton, who was represented at the council hearing by Thomas MacIver, local attorney, had won prior approval from the Planning Commission for the zone change from the present R-2-S to P-D (planned development).

Norton desires, according to his counsel, to develop a used car agency on the 5000-square foot parcel which, because of its size, has limited use.

At the Planning Commission meeting when the zone change was recommended there were no protests for the used car operation from residents on adjacent Alice Ave. But that was not the case on Monday night when the City Council voted on the zoning matters.

A large delegation of residents from Alice, long one of the "better" residential streets in town, was present to protest the proposed used car agency.

Speaking against that use of the small parcel were Peter Yerkovich, 69 Alice; Joseph C. Agostinho, 58 Alice and William F. McLachlan, 51 Alice. In addition, a petition of protest had been submitted to the City Council signed by 44 residents of the street.

Before the discussion began on the issue, City Attorney Joe Bonacina ruled that there would be no conflict of interest involved if Councilman Homer Hyde, a resident of the street, took part in the action.

Councilman Charles Rose was responsible for the divided vote. He suggested as part of the motion for referral back to the Planning Commission that the city should consider buying the property because of its limited use.

All the councilmen had appeared to be in accord, prior to Rose's suggestion, to send the request back to the Planning Commission because of the protests of adjacent residents.

Both Mayor Doetsch and Councilman Bill Smeed felt this offer to buy was premature. So their no vote was tempered with that idea. Councilmen Ed Rogers and Hyde went along with Rose's thinking.

As a result the Planning Commission will get another crack at it with the added thought of city purchase.

Another 3-2 vote resulted over the long-pending study of what to do about the strict house-moving ordinance of the city which now prohibits a house to be moved into the city.

The issue came before the City Council via the request of the Turturicci family on Hacienda to move a house from San Jose next to a house they own in Campbell which would be used for their mother.

This time Councilmen Hyde and Smeed voted "no" to any amendment to the present ordinance. However, Doetsch, Rose and Rogers went along with a proposed amendment that would give staff strict control on the houses that could be moved into the city with a maximum age of 10 years.

The next split vote came on the proposed County Housing Authority issue which had been a troublesome question when it had made a previous appearance before the city fathers.

Campbell's council then had indicated, upon request of the county, that more information was needed before the city could act on whether a county housing board should be established.

Subsequently, the supervisors voted to establish such an authority after learning that 10 cities favored the plan, although eight of them did not want to spend any money.

Councilman Rose, who had previously indicated that he felt that such an authority was a good idea, suggested that the council inform the supervisors that Campbell favored the idea. Smeed, Rogers and Doetsch, however, felt that there still was more to learn about the plan and that they preferred to wait until the county approached the city again.

Hyde's motion, a sort of watered-down Rose version, that Campbell agree with the concept but needed more details, received only Rose's support.

The split-vote almost showed again later in the evening when the council discussed the selection of an architect for the far-in-the-future-civic center.

Screening of possible architects for the job had resulted in two getting into the final playoff. During the final screening session, however, Councilman Rose was absent recovering from his recent surgery. The four had thus deadlocked on the final decision.

It had been decided to do some more research before the final choice was made and also this would allow Rose to catch up.

But Rose indicated Monday night that he favored a local architect which would have swung the vote then and there, if the balloting had come.

But Councilman Smeed forestalled voting on the architect Monday by moving deferrment because that had been the prior understanding of the council.

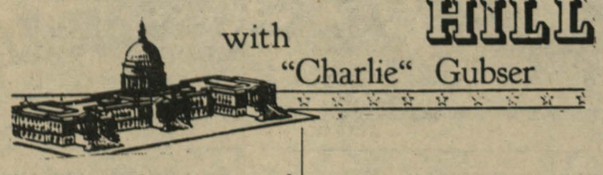
ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser



In the mid-summer of 1864, President Abraham Lincoln told a reporter for the BOSTON JOURNAL, "I have faith in the people... let them know the truth and the country is safe."

I wish it were otherwise but the fact is that today's America doubts the candor of its leadership and suspects that it is not being given the truth.

Belated admissions following outright denials that bombs hit civilians in North Vietnam don't lend credibility to Administration statements. Nor do other examples of press agentry and news manipulation.

In mid-November government experts predicted the Fiscal 1968 budget would be close to $140 billion. Then about Thanksgiving time President Johnson made these headlines: "Johnson Orders $1.1 billion Cut in Highway Funds" (NEW YORK TIMES 12-24-66), "Johnson Announces Cuts of $3 billion in Spending" (NEW YORK TIMES 12-30-66). Now in January the budget will be announced as well below $140 billion, and President Johnson will again be acclaimed as a financial wizard.

Congress has seen this same act for three straight years.

Before the FY 1965 budget was presented, the President said that "it would be hard to bring the budget below $103 billion" since President Kennedy's departments had requested more than $108 billion. After several weeks of economics and turning out the White House lights, President Johnson came through with a "balanced" budget of only $97.9 billion.

Before presenting the FY 1966 budget the President again used late November headlines in the NEW YORK TIMES to estimate that the budget would be between $103-105 billion because department requests were between $108-109 billion. But on January 26 he was again a hero as he called for a budget of $99.7 billion--still below the $100 billion barrier.

The pattern was repeated in the following year. The TIMES reported that the President had brought the budget down to $115 billion and further trimming would be 'difficult". But in January of last year the budget was announced at $112.8 billion--another miracle! Now, less than six months into the fiscal year of that budget, the Johnson Administration admits that it will be $120.7 billion instead of $112.8 billion and instead of a $1.8 billion deficit we will be in the "red" some $9.7 billion.

The discrepancy is explained as a $10 billion "error" in computing the cost of the Vietnam war. Secretary McNamara says it is not an error but a change in the assumption that the war in Vietnam would be over by June 30, 1967. As a Member of the Armed Services Committee, I know that Secretary McNamara's military plans have always been projected beyond that date. And, in fact, some of the present operations in Vietnam could only happen after a long build-up of manpower and supplies. To now say that the budget was planned on the basis of the war ending in mid-1967 is to contradict every military presentation I have ever heard from Mr. McNamara himself.

It is this type of deception which destroys the faith of the American people in its leadership. "Let them know the truth...".

Mothers' March against birth defects Jan. 31

Neighbor will be calling on neighbor next Tuesday (Jan. 31), as women throughout the county participate in the annual Mothers' March against birth defects.

Each city is headed by community chairmen, who are still recruiting helpers for the residential canvass. In Campbell, two women share the responsibility; Mrs. Harold Hall (378-9684) and Mrs. Robert Demster (296-5871).

"We have had an enthusiastic response from many women," Mrs. Demster said today. "But the more marchers we have, the more we will be doing to support the battle against birth defects as carried on by The National Foundation-March of Dimes."

In addition to asking for support for the national voluntary health agency, the women will be distributing educational brochures on their Mothers' March. In them are listed things to do if you are about to be married, if you are expecting a baby, if a birth defect occurs in your family, and if you have friends with a defective child.

The March of Dimes is spearheading the fight against birth defects.

Money raised by the Mothers' March will go into this program.

The dance, sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association, starts at 9 p.m. in the girls' gym. Everyone must dance in their stocking feet. Student body elections held last Friday at Campbell determined the presidency and vice-presidency for the second semester and brought in three new council members to replace outgoing councilmen. George Taniguchi is the new president, and Greg Linn was elected vice-president. The new councilmen are Mason Sacks, Rocky Fagundes, and Chuck Hawthorne. The new officers will be sworn in soon.

The Campbell High Buc Band is busily preparing for its annual Pops Concern, which will be presented in the cafeteria Feb. 3 and 4. In addition to the band, the concert also features the Pirettes, flag girls, and majorette.

Four members of the band recently received letters inviting them to participate in this year's California State Honor Band at Upland, Feb. 18 through the 20. The talented Bucs are Michael Prettol, flutist, Perry Rogers on trombone, and Rainar Sommer and George Taniguchi, clarinetists. Rainar is also Campbell's American Field Service Foreign Exchange Student from Germany.

The varsity wrestlers downed Leigh last Friday, bringing a welcomed change of pace to the Campbell sports scene. Frosh-Soph basketballers continued their winning ways, defeating Westmont and Los Gatos, while the varsity lost their battles with both of those schools.

This weeks action finds the basketball squads at Del Mar on Tuesday (scores were unavailable at press time), and at home against Blackford on Friday. The teams play at Leigh Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 31. Wrestlers, meanwhile, travel to Saratoga this Friday, the 27 of January, to test the Falcons.

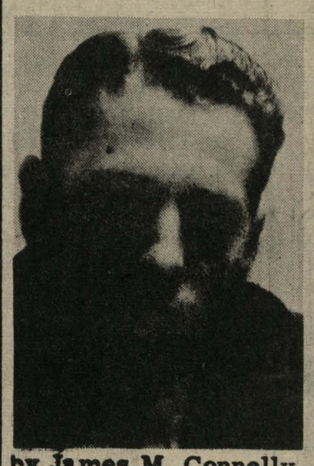
344 arrests last year

Local juvenile arrests show increase in 1966



by James M. Connelly, Sergeant, Campbell Police Dept.

There were 344 juveniles arrested by Campbell Police Department in 1966. Was your youngster one of them? Could your youngster have been one of them? Will your youngster be one of the juveniles arrested in 1967?

During the past year, juvenile arrests made by the Campbell Police Department increased 74 per cent over those arrests made in 1965. Male juvenile arrests outnumbered female juvenile arrests 302 to 42 or 8 to 1, and these arrests fall into three categories: dependent, pre-delinquent and delinquent.

Pre-delinquent arrests numbered 144. These arrests are made when the parents of a child can no longer control or direct their children. Examples are: runaways 40; curfew violators 36; incorrigibles 30; truants 13.

Delinquent arrests numbered 194. These arrests are made of the law violators, the juveniles who disregard the person or property of others, his own welfare, or the welfare of the society in which he lives. Examples are Petty Theft 77; Burglary 42; Auto Theft 22; Assaults 4.

ALCOHOL AND DRUGS

Often the Police Department is asked about the upsurge in drinking and narcotic use by juveniles. Is this a problem? The unequivical answer is "YES". In 1966, 17 juveniles were arrested for being drunk or possession of alcoholic beverages and two juveniles were arrested for use of or possession of dangerous drugs. It is not a problem because of the number of arrests made, but because of the long range effect of the individual and society.

With the exception of protective custody actions, why is there an increase in juvenile arrests? Many theories could be expounded but there seems to be just one major cause of just one major cause or defect - RESPONSIBILITY.

RESPONSIBILITY

First of all, the responsibility lies with the parents and the family. It is the responsibility of the parents to rear children in a good and proper manner. Parents should set good examples for the child's moral and physical development. The parents should guide and take part in activities with their children and not leave it up to the schools, churches and other organizations.

Parents should meet their child's friends and acquaint themselves with their parents. Allow your children to entertain their friends at your home, but under your supervision. Breed in your child a healthy respect for himself, friends, family and society. Be available to your children, talk with them about their problems, understand them, guide them and assist them in their development, above all love them because they are yours.

Secondly, the responsibility is that of the juvenile. Parents are not their children's personal slaves. Children grow up and start assuming the responsibilities of your own age. Don't say there is nothing to do or no place to go because there is. GO HOME. Make your bed when you get up in the morning. Clean your room. Help your parents. Mow the lawn, do the dishes, bake a cake, partake in family activities, school sports, and healthy social activities. Increase your knowledge by studying hard and reading good books. Start thinking about your future. Take pride in yourself. Talk with your parents, tell them your problems, accept their guidance and advise.

Finally the responsibility is that of the Police Department. We are a service organization dedicated to the well being of the community. We are here to serve and assist you, adult and juvenile, as much as we can.

When a juvenile "Gets in trouble with the cops", it becomes of great concern to us because it usually means that there is a breakdown in the relationship between a juvenile and his parents. If a parent cannot control, or if a juvenile does not accept the control of his parents, the Police Department enters the picture. We do not take away the authority of the parents, but as a resource agency, help the parents and reinforce their role.

A child is like a tree. The parents want him to grow straight and tall and bring happiness to the lives of his family and friends. The Police Department hopes the juvenile members of this community will grow tall and become fully developed as responsible citizens to the joy of their parents and their community.
